Information summary

Background

The Cube Wodonga programs approximately 20 season performances each year, providing a diverse selection of performances including comedy, children's shows, physical theatre (circus), dance, contemporary music, drama and musical theatre.

The Cube Wodonga wants to make sure that their programming and performances are accessible to the whole community, as there is researched evidence of improved mental health and educational benefits in people who attend theatre performances.

The Cube Wodonga's ticketing policy allows for an allocation of complimentary tickets for each of The Cube Season shows, to enable the provision of accessible tickets to those members of the community who may be disadvantaged or vulnerable and to drive a positive social and cultural outcome.

What we are seeking

We are seeking expressions of interest from local not-for-profit organisations who would be interested in receiving complimentary tickets for shows presented by The Cube Wodonga for the purpose of distributing to members of the community who may be disadvantaged or vulnerable.

What we are offering

We will be offering complimentary tickets to approved organisations between two to four weeks out from each show date of The Cube Wodonga season. There will be a limit of up to 50 tickets in total for each show which will be shared across all approved organisations.

Eligibility of your organisation

To apply, your organisation must:

- Be a registered not-for-profit organisation; and
- Drive positive social and cultural outcomes for the Albury Wodonga community; and/or
- Provide a support service to community members that may be disadvantaged or vulnerable.

Please note:

If you believe you have a conflict of interest or a perceived conflict of interest with The Cube Wodonga, Wodonga Council or its staff, please contact The Cube Wodonga to request a declaration form to submit along with your EOI.
